

OFFICE OF THE VICE PRESIDENT FOR DIVERSITY

WELCOMED, VALUED, and AFFIRMED

JANUARY NEWSLETTER

Let's Welcome

Shannon Archibeque-Engle

We are pleased to welcome Shannon Archibeque-Engle to the Office of the Vice President for Diversity. Shannon will serve as Director of Assessment and Strategic Initiatives, working with university partners to implement data informed strategies in creating and sustaining educational environments that welcome, value, and affirm all members of our campus community.

For the past 12 years, Shannon has implemented inclusive practices in the College of Agricultural Sciences, and has made similar impacts across our campus community.. Through a reorganization exercise at the College of Agricultural Sciences, the opportunity arose for Shannon's expertise to have a broader institutional impact through the work of the Office of the Vice President for Diversity.

In many respects, Shannon's participation in the Office of the Vice President for Diversity's programs and initiatives is not a new development. Shannon has been involved in facilitating various OVPD trainings, workshops and institutes focusing on increasing inclusive practices in work and classroom settings, and is considered an effective educator and respected campus advocate.. We look forward to the Shannon's contributions towards our shared mission of making our campus a truly inclusive community.

The Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Celebration brings the community together annually, and 2018’s celebration will build upon previous years — with a few changes. First and foremost, this year organizers are asking the community to “Rise Up, Take Action” — four simple but powerful words. The annual march at 11 a.m. from Old Town Square to the doors of the Lory Student Center’s Main Ballrooms will conclude with a musical performance. That will be followed by remarks from keynote speaker Rev. Jamie Washington, president of Washington Consulting Group, president and co-founder of the Social Justice Training Institute, and vice president of the American College Personnel Association.

The day is intended to create action where people will leave the event with a renewed sense of focus and purpose, specifically on how to disrupt oppressive systems daily. To understand individual and collective responsibility, attendees will break into small groups to engage in conversation about topics that include affordable housing, the arts, interfaith coalition, education and food insecurity, as they relate to accessibility, equity and inclusion for all.

Tentative agenda for Jan. 15

9:00—10:30 am	Community Service Project (Lory Student Center)
11:00—Noon	MLK Charge and March (Old Town Fort Collins)
Noon—1:00 pm	Keynote/ Entertainment (LSC Ballrooms)
1:00—2:00 pm	Community Dialogues (throughout LSC)

Community Dialogues will be designed with elementary students in mind as well as senior citizens and everyone in between, since all have a role in making Fort Collins truly a great place to live for all.
