CSU Inspire Features Students, Faculty & Staff

CSU Inspire brings 5 – 10 TED Talk-like sessions led by CSU faculty, staff, and students and focused on sharing engaging and inspiring initiatives happening on our campus in relation to social justice in short 8-minute presentations. CSU student Reham Abdunabi and CSU Fort Collins staff and faculty members, including Dr. Shannon Archibeque-Engle, Dr. Molly Gutilla, Dr. Ruth Hufbauer, Roberto Muntoreanu and Elizabeth Sink each presented ways they are implementing DEIJ practices in their respective areas.

MULTICULTURAL UNDERGRADUATE RESEARCH
ART AND LEADERSHIP SYMPOSIUM

Multicultural Undergraduate Research Art and Leadership Symposium (MURALS) is an undergraduate research and artistry symposium that provides a platform for undergraduate students with marginalized identities to showcase their scholarly work. MURALS is inclusive, rigorous, and culturally relevant. MURALS students presented a showcase with a series of short presentations of their research projects at the Symposium for Inclusive Excellence.

Participating students included Jocelyn Lapham, Kayl Ecton, Kellin Slater, Chaturya Katragadda, Alyssa Mathews, Kyla Ballard, Sreeya Kairamkonda, Victoria Silva, Abrao Soares Pereira, Joselle Gyamfi, Charlotte Avanzi and Lauren Bennett. Assistant Vice President for Inclusive Excellence Bridgette Johnson oversees this program.
